OUTLINES.

At the annual reun[illegible] of the Society of the Army of [illegible] Potomac in Washington yesterday, Gen. N. M. Curtis, of New York, was elected President; the widow of Gen. Geo. B. McClellan was honored and the society endorsed the movement for peace among the nations of the world.——At Washington yesterday a magnificent equestrian statue was unveiled by the Society of the Army of the Potomac in memory of Gen. George B. McClellan, its organizer and first commander in the Civil war; President Roosevelt was the speaker and he eulogized McClellan and paid tribute to the Northern and Southern armies, mentioning the singular coincidence that his aides for the day are the sons of Gens. Grant and Lee.——The Hotel Carr-olina at Durham was practically destroyed by a fire which also did other serious damage last night at Durham, N. C.——Last Saturday night off Hatteras a fishing smack rescued a shipwrecked captain, 14 seamen and a negro boy from a lifeboat which sank as the last man was taken off.——As the result of a call on President Roosevelt yesterday by representatives of the Federation of Labor, President Roosevelt will write a letter concerning his reference to Moyer and Haywood as "undesirable citizens."—On account of floods following the cold weather, farmers in portions of Louisiana and Mississippi have had to plant cotton the third time.——Theodore H. Price, the New York cotton man, has sued out an injunction restraining the New York Cotton Exchange from classifying cotton under what he claims are improper standards favoring the seller.——At the Jamestown Exposition yesterday the Yankee jackies won the first boat race but the British tars carried off the honors in two races; last night the American sailors on the battleships Virginia and Illinois entertained the British and German sailors with "a spread."—The national convention of the Daughters of the Revolution met yesterday at Wheeling, W. Va.——New York markets: Money on call, steady 2 1-4 to 3 per cent., ruling rate 3, closing bid 2 1-4, offered at 2 1-2; spot cotton, steady, 11.55; flour, firm and higher but quiet; wheat, steady, No. 2 red, 90 1-8 elevator; corn, steady, No. 2, 60 1-2 elevator; oats, firm, mixed 47 1-2 to 48; turpentine, firm, 67 1-2 to 68; rosin, firm.

Fayetteville certainly walks off with the honors. Only six people in that prosperous city failed to pay their taxes during the past fiscal year.

A poet writes about "the glance of a frenzied eye." That's the kind that makes you want to take to the other side of the street for fear of a brain storm.

A writer in the New York Times says "men are hungry for leaders." They are not so hungry, however, that they are going to swallow any kind of a leader.

Mr. Stead, the English magazine editor who is over here doing a lot of talking, says "American wives are spoiled." Well, they insist on it and it has to be done. He don't know them.

Some Wyoming man has invented a game called "The Road to the White House." Of course, the game would not have a tinge of reality to it if the inventor hasn't provided plenty of knockers for the fellow who tries to play the game.

"More liberty is what men want," declares a political speaker. If he would hang out with the lobbyists in Washington a while he would find out that it's not liberty they want but special privileges and less investigations.

Bridge whist ceases to be a social game when laws are passed against it and the police are liable to break in the door and pull the players.

What has Roosevelt got against Senator Overman by suggesting him for minority leader in the United States Senate?

An optimistic and festive poet says: "Oh, laugh! Why don't you laugh a bit, and say good-by to care?" Well, we surely have been doing our part of it, thinking how delighted some North Carolina Republicans will be to pull Marion Butler's coatail every time they want to get the attention of Roosevelt.

Washington gossips now declare that there is a coolness between Secretary of State Root and President Roosevelt who has often expressed his opinion that Root is a big man. Their customary horseback rides have ceased and the gossips figure it out that Root, who has Presidential aspirations, is sore because Roosevelt is for Taft, or else doesn't like the President's treatment of his friend Harriman.

RAILS FOR SEABOARD

Five Car Loads Arrived and Trackmen are on The Grounds For Relaying.

A GREAT IMPROVEMENT

Work is Already Under Way on Carolina Central Division of S. A. L. Begins at East Arcadia—Mr. Garrett in Raleigh.

The actual work of relaying the Carolina Central division of the Seaboard Air Line between Wilmington and Hamlet with heavier rail was begun yesterday and will be prosecuted with all possible dispatch so that the work will be completed not later than sixty or ninety days. The work includes not only the laying of the heavier rail but the surfacing of the raod bed and the putting in of new ties, the improvements all told to cost in the neighborhood of half a million dollars. This is in compliance with the order of the Corporation Commission and the actual beginning of work will be hailed with delight by the Seaboard public at large, for recently it has become almost dangerous to ride on the cars of the company between Wilmington and Hamlet and on account of the condition of the road bed, it has been impossible for trains to make anything like an approach to schedule time.

The worst section of the track are to be taken up first and, therefore, the work has bee nbegun at East Arcadia and will be extended to Navassa as fast as possible. From Navassa to Wilmington the road bed and track is all that can be desired as both the Coast Line and Seaboard operate their trains over this and it is in good condition. The work is being done under contract by W. R. Bonsal & Co., of Hamlet, and 100 trackmen arrived yesterday and immediately begun to put in ties for the heavier rail. Five car loads of the latter arrived at Navassa yesterday and other shipments will be brought in and distributed from day to day as the work progresses.

President W. A. Garrett of the Seaboard, was in Raleigh yesterday and spent some time in consultation with the Corporation Commission. He stated that several conferences had been had with the Atlantic Coast Line officials with regard to the Wilmington union depot but that nohing definite has yet been agreed upon. He intimated that the roads would ask for an extension of time from May 1st to June 1st.

THE ANNUAL PILGRIMAGE

Colonial Dames and Their Friends Will Visit Historic Ruins of St. Philip's Church at Old Brunswick This Afternoon.

The last of a succession of most interesting and pleasing events in connection with the annual meeting of the North Carolina Society of the Colonial Dames in this city during the present week will be the annual pilgrimage of the Dames and their friends this afternoon to the ruins of historic St. Philip's Church, at Old Brunswick, sixteen miles down the Cape Fear river. Departing from the usual custom the pilgrimage will not be all day but only for the afternoon and the party will go on the steamer Wilmington, leaving Market street dock this afternoon at 2:45 o'clock. If the weather is at all favorable the pilgrimage promises to be most delightful and a large number will be guests of the Dames for this event.

As previously announced Mr. Junius Davis, a member of the Wilmington bar and a son of the lamented George Davis, will make an address on this occasion. This address will, of course, be of a historical nature and those who know of the qualifications of Mr. Davis to speak upon a subject of the kind, will hear him with anticipated pleasure. Some time will be given the pilgrims to inspect the old church yard of St. Philip's and revel in the historic memories of the place.

The Colonial Dames will return to the city in time to attend the lecture this evening at 8:30 o'clock by the distinguished Mr. Hayne Davis, of New York, in the interest of International Peace. It is expected that the steamer will return early in the evening.

Mrs. Hays Beatty Dead.

Friends in this city have learned with sorrow of the death of Mrs. Hays Beatty, a venerable and most estimable woman of Klondike, N. C., which occurred last Monday at the family home, aged about 80 years. Mrs. Beatty was noted for her strong Christian character and was universally beloved by all in the circle of her acquaintance. Her husband, who preceded her to the grave was one of the founders and for many years a ruling elder in the Black River Presbyterian Church at Ivanhoe. Mrs. Beatty is survived by four sons, all prominent business men, Messrs. John D., Neill and J. M. Beatty, of Klondike, and Mr. W. M. Beatty, of Kansas City. They have the sympathy of many in their sorrow. The funeral was conducted Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock and the remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground.

At First Baptist Church.

Another large congregation attended the revival services at the First Baptist Church last night and heard a searching and impressive discourse by Evangelist Percy G. Elsom, whose text was "Ye Must Be Born Again." The congregation was deeply attentive, there was a gracious revival spirit and the outlook is for a good old time religious awakening in the church. During the evening one person was baptized and two others were received into the church. There were several professions of faith and quite a goodly number manifested personal concern in their soul's welfare. The meetings today will be at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and at 8 o'clock this evening. The services on Saturday will be at the same hours. Mr. Elsom will remain over Sunday and throughout the coming week.

At Immanuel Church.

On account of a funeral service at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon the 3 o'clock service at Immanuel Presbyterian Church will be dispensed with today but the night service will be held as usual and the public is cordially invited. Rev. Henry Miller, of Virginia, is being heard with increasing interest in the series of services at the church and the meeting last evening was one of the best yet held. The services will continue through Sunday and the series will then be merged into the union meeting to be commenced at the First Church, of which further announcement will be made.

The Bijou Was Thronged.

Interest that Wilmington people took in the famous New York murder trial just ended was evidenced last night by the throngs which crowded the Bijou on North Front street to see the special film dealing with the famous tragedy that was advertised to be put on for the three remaining days of the week. The popular theatre was simply not able to hold the people, men and women, who flocked there last night to see the photographic reproduction of notable scenes in that famous tragedy, wherein Harry Thaw and Stanford White were the principal actors.

An Approaching Marriage.

An announcement of much interest to many friends is that Miss Allie Vaiden Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Peterson, of Atkinson, and Mr. Marvin Johnson, a son of Mr. A. J. Johnson, of Clear Run, will be married next Wednesday, May 8th, in the Baptist Church at Atkinson. They will leave immediately after the ceremony on the westbound train for an extended trip to the Jamestown Exposition and other places of interest north. They will be at home to friends after May 20th at Clear Run, N. C.

MONUMENT UNVEILED

Ceremonies Yesterday Afternoon in Academy of Music and on Market Street.

WORK OF COLONIAL DAMES

Handsome Marble Shaft to Memory of Harnett and Other Revolutionary Heroes Formally Presented to City—Address by Dr. Smith.

A heavy downpour of rain at the appointed hour yesterday afternoon rather interfered with the perfect success of the elaborate and patriotic ceremonies that had been arranged in conection with the unveiling of the handsome monument erected in this city to the memory of Cornelius Harnett and other Revolutionary heroes of the Cape Fear by the North Carolina Society of the Colonial Dames of America, but altogether the occasion was one fraught with much interest to the patriotic women organized in the great cause in which they are enlisted and the large number of their friends who were present to participate in the exercises. On account of the rain the scene of the pleasing ceremonies had to be shifted from the grounds of the monument at Fourth and Market streets to the Academy of Music, the public having been given all possible notice of the change when it was seen that the weather would not permit of th outdoor exercises.

Th academy was well filled with people at 4:30 o'clock, the Colonial Dames, the Wilmington Light Infantry, the Wilmington Division, Naval Reserves, the Boys' Brigade, city officials and Cornelius Harnett Council, Royal Arcanum, with several hundred school children having attended in a body and occupied special seats reserved for them in the pretty theatre. The stage has been hurriedly decorated with palms and other evergreens for the occasion and the scene presented was a very pretty one indeed The programme opened with an invocation by Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, Bishop of the East Carolina Diocese, who served as chaplain for the exercises. The unveiling exercises proper had to be dispensed with until later and Mrs. George Wilson Kidder, founder of the North Carolina Society of the Colonial Dames and chairman of the monument committee of the organization, made the formal presentation of the shaft to the city of Wilmington in a neat address, appropriate and highly pleasing. Mrs. James Sprunt, president of the North Carolina Society, gracefully presented the certificate of transfer, which was beautifully engrossed on parchment and adorned with the colors of the patriotic organization—blue and gold. The acceptance of each of these tokens was by Mayor A. M. Waddell, who said that it was a source of the profoundest satisfaction to him as one of the last official acts of his administration as chief executive of the city of Wilmington to accept this beautiful granite shaft to the colonial heroes of the Cape Fear. It was the first monument ever erected to a public man in the city of Wilmington and it was the work of a band of noble women weary of waiting on others and finally determined to do it themselves. All honor was paid to them and the hope was expressed that this shaft would be followed by others. Col. Waddell paid a high tribute to Cornelius Harnett and congratulated the ladies upon their good fortune in having one so eminently fitted to deliver the oration upon the occasion.

The introduction of the orator, the scholarly and eloquent Dr. C. Alphonso Smith, of the chair of English Literature at the University of North Carolina, was next by Mr. Eugene S. Martin, of the Wilmington bar, who paid a beautiful tribute to the lofty spirit of patriotism which inspired the ladies of the North Carolina Society of the Colonial Dames in perpetuating the memory of their distinguished ancestry.

The address of Dr. Smith was one of the prettiest, most eloquent and inspiring ever heard in Wilmington upon an occasion of the kind. While necessarily historical, his oration never for a moment lagged in interest and the review of the life and character of Cornelius Harnett was interesting and most instructive. His connection with some of the greater crises in North Carolina, notably the first armed resistance of the Stamp Act at Old Brunswick, the first triumph of American arms at the battle of Moore's Creek, which was declared the Rubicon over which North Carolina passed to constitutional liberty and independence, and his membership in the Continental Congress, were striking features of the high tribute paid to the man and to the statesman. Dr. Smith spoke for about an hour and closed with an earnest and eloquent appeal for the preservation of history in literature. He was heard with undivided interest by the large and cultured audience, being frequently interrupted with the most enthusiastic applause.

The address of Dr. Smith was immediately preceded by the rendition of Kipling's Recessional by a special choir.

The closing feature was the spirited singing of "Star Spangled Banner" by a hundred or more public school children, who lined the front of the first gallery and had seats in the parquet. They were led by Prof. H. Womersley and the singing was much enjoyed.

At the conclusion of the exercises at the Academy the Dames and their guests for the occasion repaired to the grounds of the monument at Fourth and Market streets, one block distant, where the unveiling ceremonies proper took place. The rain had ceased in the meantime and the towering shaft, which was beautifully veiled in the colors of the Society, was revealed in all its beauty to the public view by Mrs. Kidder, as the Naval Reserves boomed a merry salute of thirteen guns from their artillery. Then the ladies joined most patriotically in the singing of "Carolina" and the most interesting exercises were at an end.

Last evening the Colonial Dames were hostesses at an elegant reception given at the home of Mrs. William Latimer, 126 South Third street. This was especially in honor of the number of visitors here from all parts of the State to attend the annual meeting of the Society and to participate in the several interesting events incident thereto.

MR. HAYNE DAVIS ARRIVES

Lecture in Interest of International Peace Movement in Elks' Temple This Evening—Organization of North Carolina Society.

Mr. Hayne Davis, of New York, secretary of the International Association of Conciliation, arrived in the city last evening and is a guest at The Orton. He is in Wilmington for the purpose of lecturing this evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Elks' Temple on the subject of law as a substitute for war in the international realm and to attend a meeting at The Orton tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock for the purpose of perfecting the organization of the North Carolina Peace society, the nucleus of which was formed at the April meeting of the National Arbitration and Peace Congress held in New York City. Mr. Davis is accompanied to Wilmington by his mother, Mrs. Mary Pearson Davis, of Salisbury, N. C., and Mr. Arthur E. Overbury, of New York, who is also interested in the great International peace movement.

The lecture tonight promises to be largely attended. Both the Colonial Dames, which are in session in Wilmington, and the North Carolina Sorosis, of Wilmington, have endorsed the movement for International peace and have asked that seats be reserved for them at this lecture. In addition all others will be welcome and a large number of representative Wilmington people will be present. It was at first thought that the Elks Temple would be insufficient to accommodate all who would attend, but extra seating arrangements have been made and all are invited. Mr. Davis is a North Carolinian by birth and is a grandson of Chief Justice Pearson, of North Carolina. He has achieved distinction both in the United States and abroad in the work in which he is engaged and the lecture which he will deliver tonight will be interesting and instructive. Professor F. S. Blair, of Guilford College, and Mr. Davis are named on the executive committee of the North Carolina Society and both will be present at the meeting tomorrow afternoon at The Orton.

Mr. Davis, Mr. Overbury and Mrs. Davis were guests last evening at the reception given by the Colonial Dames at the residence of Mrs. Latimer, on South Third street. Mr. Davis would be pleased to receive any callers interested in his work at The Orton today.

The remains of the late Mr. W. G. Haughton, whose sad death occurred Tuesday night at his home in Spartanburg, S. Manager Grimes says he thinks he has the best team in the Carolinas and would be glad to hear from any town in the two States that would like to make engagements for home or abroad. The Fort Caswell team is composed of gentlemen and clean sportsmen, who have been on the diamond for several seasons. It is hoped that they can arrange a number of games for the present season.

A YEAR OF PROGRESS

Fifty-Third Annual Meeting of Chamber of Commerce Held Yesterday Afternoon.

THE ELECTION OF OFFICERS

President Discusses Transportation, Public Utilities and Other Economic Questions—Secretary Gives Official Statistics.

The fifty-third annual meeting of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce was held yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and was marked by a large and most representative attendance. The annual reports of President J. A. Taylor and Secretary James Kyle were unusually able and comprehensive and were received with the greatest enthusiasm by those assembled. The annual election of officers at the polls on the floor from 12 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon was also announced at this meeting and the announcement of the result was likewise received with great satisfaction. The officers are as follows, all being the former officers with the exception of two members of the executive committee who were retired:

President—Mr. J. A. Taylor.

Vice-President—Mr. S. P. McNair.

Executive Committee—Messrs. M. S. Willard, R. A. Parsley, Jno. S. McEachern, Wm. E. Worth and I. M. Bear.

Inspectors of Election—Messrs. J. C. Springer, H. W. Turrentine and Edwin A. Metts.

There were present at the meeting yesterday President Taylor, Secretary Kyle, Messrs. Wm. E. Worth, Jas H. Chadbourn, E. C. Holt, William Gilchrist, J. S. Funchess, L. B. Rogers, George R. French, Sam Bear, George W. Chestnutt, Wm. H. Sprunt, F. E. Hashagen, Graham Kenan, R. W. Herring, Jesse Wilder, Walker Taylor, B. F. Keith, M. W. Jacobi, Jno. H. Brown, H. G. Smallbones, S. P. McNair, John E. Crow, Jno. R. Turrentine, H. W. Turrentine, Jno. S. McEachern, M. S. Willard, O. H. Wright, H. L. Vollers, Gen. Jas. I. Metts and Mr. Diamond, of George F. Diamond & Co., hay dealers of Mayville, Mich.

Mr. Taylor called Mr. Sam Bear to the chair and the annual reports of the president and secretary were read in their order by Mr. Kyle. Both were received with applause and the two were ordered printed in pamphlet form for general distribution. Several members took occasion to commend in the highest terms these reports and the officers of the chamber who made them. The announcement of the election of the officers as named above was then made by the chairman, who upon retiring to give place to the newly elected president paid a high tribute to both him and his secretary. He also suggested the propriety of the chamber's owning and bieng housed in its own building. Mr. Bear invited Mr. Taylor to "the chair that he so ably fills" and the newly elected president responded amidst applause, briefly expressing his thanks to the organization for the confidence reposed, saying that he felt like the "Bijou man up street"—"he was never out and never over," and that while the position was not of his seeking he would endeavor to perform his duties to the best of his abilities. He made a plea for more interest on the part of business men in public affairs and said that nothing was beyond accomplishment by them, their influence being greater because there was no selfish interest involved.

President's Annual Report.

It is regretted that owing to its length and the lack of space this morning, it is impossible to print in full the very able annual address of President Taylor. He opens by felicitating the business community upon the fact that notwithstanding the shortage of the cotton crop and the stringency of the money market, the past year has been a prosperous one and there has been but one small commercial failure. The situation attests, at once, he says, the unmeasured resources of the country and the business ability that controls and shapes our economic development. Discussing transportation conditions the president says:

"Transportation Conditions — The congested condition of traffic which I called special attention to in my last annual report, and which I predicted would continue for an extended period, is as yet only partially relieved; nor is the prospect good for transportation facilities to make any appreciable advance in closing the hiatus between facility and demand. The productive power of the country continues to develop without abatement, and we are confronted with a condition in which the demand for capital has far out-run the supply. It has been estimated that if all the principal railroad systems of the country were double-tracked over night, such magical increase in facilities would still be inadequate to move transportation with normal dispatch. Such an era of development and prosperity is without a parallel in recorded history, because in more or less degree every civilized country is in the throes of prosperity—presenting the phenomenon of stringency due to production and demand, notwith-

JAMESTOWN DAY.

The Star takes a genuine delight in acknowledging receipt of a copy of the programme for "Jamestown Day for the Public Schools of North Carolina, May 13, 1907." It is a printed brochure of 16 pages, exclusive of the cover, and contains a programme in history and song, to be recited and sung by the school children in commemoration of the first permanent settlement of English speaking people at Jamestown. The three hundredth or ter-centennial, of that first settlement is now being celebrated on a scale of grandeur in the Exposition which formally opened at Jamestown, April 26th, and it is fitting from both a patriotic and educational point of view that it should also be celebrated in the public schools of North Carolina.

The programme is for special exercises in the schools of this State on Monday, May 13th, and to Mrs. James Sprunt, president of the North Carolina Society of the Colonial Dames of America, is due the honor of its conception and preparation with the able assistance which she drew upon. It was a happy conception, and so far as we have seen, it is the best publication adapted to the interesting historic event which the Exposition in Virginia is emphasizing in such an impressive way. Mrs. Sprunt has done a great service in preparing such a highly educating and pleasing form of exercise for "Jamestown Day," and she has been so deeply interested in the work that she has, at her own expense, had 2,000 copies printed and sent to all the public schools of North Carolina. The Star is sure there will be throughout the State a deep sense of appreciation of her ability and generosity as demonstrated in this instance.

The programme is within cover designed by Mr. John Jay Blair, superintendent of schools at Wilmington, and it is an interesting one, the prominent feature being a picture of the colonists' ship. The programme starts off with a song and music, "Come, Lassies and Lads", and in the midst of the recitation another song accompanied by the music is "The American War,' the closing one being the inspring "Star Spangled Banner." The music was most carefully selected and is already being most acceptably rendered in rehearsals by the children of the Wilmington schools.

Probably the most interesting feature of the programme is "A Brief Narative of Jamestown as It Appears in History and Literature," by the eminent Henry E. Shepherd, M. A. LL. D., of Baltimore, who, by the way is a cousin of Mrs. Sprunt. The narative is replete with information of a most valuable character and the whole is prepared in the scholarly way peculiar to Dr. Shepherd. Another very attractive feature is the record of Presidents and Colonial Governors of Virginia, prepared especially for this programme by Dr. Henry Alexander White, of Columbia, S. C. Another most valuable and scholarly feature is by Professor John Jay Blair, of Wilmington, who furnishes an interesting paper on Captain John Smith.

To these and the recitation features in the programme, Mrs. Sprunt has added the poem by Poet Laureate of England at that time, Michael Drayton, addressed to the voyagers just before their departure for Jamestown. As if it were not complete, there is an illustration of the old Church at Jamestown, as it is restored, a picture which was secured with great difficuty. The last page contains an interesting illustration of the ruins of the Jamestown settlement.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

A careful reading of the communication signed "Taxpayer," printed in The Morning Star last Sunday, and of that from Mr. D. McEachern, Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, printed yesterday, should convince every unprejudiced mind that a Recorder's Court for New Hanover county would be a money saver, and for that reason, should be established.

The articles referred to do not deal in glittering generalities, but present cold facts and figures that cannot be controverted.

Those who favor a Recorder's Court should not fail to vote, as every registered vote not cast will be counted as a vote against it. This is the result of a change made in the bill by the Representative from New Hanover requiring a majority of the qualified voters to make the bill valid. His object in doing this was to defeat the movement. The requirement is something unprecedented, except in the matter of bond issues, and the course of our "Foxy Grandpa" in this case should be rebuked at the polls.

THE BOND ISSUES.

There are two propositions to be presented to the voters of Wilmington next Tuesday, viz.: To authorize the issue of $500,000 in bonds for water works and sewerage, and $400,000 for street improvement, the two propositions to be voted on separately

There is a probability that both will be defeated because it requires a majority of the qualified or registered voters to adopt either or both. But, aside from this handicap, there is pronounced opposition to increasing, either now or in the near future, the bonded indebtedness of the city to, approximately, $1,600,000.

We think a serious mistake was made in increasing the amount for street improvement from $200,000—as originally agreed—to $400,000, as we are satisfied there would have been but little opposition to the proposition in the original form. Nevertheless, the Star favors the bond issue for street improvement.

But we do not favor the proposition to issue bonds to the amount of $500,000 for water and sewerage. Not yet.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—A million dollar mining company, a $30,000 furniture factory, a new land company, the extension of the electric car line and a county fair—all for Salisbury, and all announced in one day, is the record for Salisbury last Saturday. Time was when this would have sounded like a miracle, but so rapid and frequent are the strides in all North Carolina towns today that little surprise is expressed over anything.—Charlotte News.

—No one will be surprised that one of the Cramps should deny the statement that government warships built by private firms contained "hundreds of rivet holes filled with putty," besides other defects. But the question is one of mere fact. If untrue. Representative Waldo, who gave out the statement, should retract, but if true in any instance an investigation should be made. Embalmed beef was the limit, but defective battleships go far beyond.—Savannah News.

—M. E. Ingalls was right and wise in his speech to the Pittsburg Traffic Club when he said that a new evangel must be preached as to railways, that these must be placed on a higher plane, and instead of being considered by ordinary people as parians must be considered by all as benefactors. Reform means not merly a squar deal in rates, it means the placing of the roads on a higher plane morally and politically, and this will come with a belief in the roads as common carriers in fact as well as in name.—Indianapolis News (Rep.)

—Germany seems to have the first opportunity to take advantage of the flying machine said to have been perfcted by Messrs. Wright, of Dayton, O. Arrangements are soon to be made for a demonstration for the German government. The inventors insist on an order for 25 machines at $400,000 before they will exhibit, as the machine is not patentable. An alleged "snub" on the part of this government drove the Wrights to seek foreign connections. The test is to be a successful flight of fifty miles. It would be unfortunate should a foreign country get the first benefit of American invention in such an important field.—Savannah News.

—From this time on the President will receive words of cheer, assurances of fealty and forecasts of everwheming triumph from travel stained messengers who have spurred hotly on the road to bring him halcyon reports. Officials of all degrees who love their jobs and would prefer to keep them, together with volnteers who thrive upon a hopeful appetite, will swarm and pound on every pike that leads to Washington. Whether they be the favored ones who revel in the fine air of immediate proximity, or humble satellites who twinkle from a distance, they will bring or send him presages of victory, certificates of obedience and zeal from all proconsuls and centurions. He will hear nothing but diapasons of enthusiastic reverence, inhale nothing but the incense of devotion.—New York Sun (Rep.)

SOMETHING YOU SHOULD KNOW

We want the people of Wilmington and vicinity to know that the most valuable and delicious cod liver preparation known to medicine is Vinol.

Vinol contains all the medicinal elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods livers, but not a drop of the useless, greasy oil to upset the stomach and retard its work, and to this is added peptonate of iron (tonic iron.)

For this reason Vinol is recognized throughout the world as the greatest health restorer and strength creator known to medicine, and we do not believe there is a man, woman or child in Wilmington but what Vinol will benefit them at this season of the year.

Vinol creates health and strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles.

Try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails. R. R. Bellamy, Druggist.

NOTE—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Wilmington, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

My Best Friend,

Alexander Benton, who lives on Rural Route 1, Fort Edward, N. Y., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is my best earthly friend. It cured me of asthma six years ago. It has also performed a wonderful cure of incipient consumption for my son's wife. The first bottle ended the terrible cough, and this accomplished, the other symptoms left one by one, until she was perfectly well. Dr. King's New Discovery's power over coughs and colds is simply marvelous." No other remedy has ever equaled it. Fully guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy, Druggist. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed-up cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundancy.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market to-day.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co. Detroit, Mich.

GREW MISS CARROLL'S HAIR

AND WE CAN

PROVE IT

Beautiful Hair At Small Cost.

WITHIN the last decade great and rapid strides have been made in Materia Medica. Many diseases that were considered incurable fifteen years ago are now cured in a few days, and in many cases prevented altogether. The scientists of late years have been delving for the cause, the foundation, the reason and the starting point of disease, fully realizing that the actual and true cause must be ascertained before the remedy can be located. Hair troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp, and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment, and when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all of its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions).

The natural and logical thing to do in either case is, feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is identical with the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp. It feeds and nourishes the hair and does all the work originally carried on by the natural nutrients or life-giving juices generated by the scalp itself. It penetrates the pores of the scalp quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One twenty-five-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself. Now on sale at every drug and toilet store in the land. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00.

KNOCKS OUT WHISKEY AGENTS

An Overlooked Decision of United States Supreme Court Backs Up North Carolina Liquor Laws. Great Flurry at Greensboro.

(Raleigh News and Observer.)

Greensboro, N. C., May 1.—A very important recent decision of the United States Supreme Court relating to the liquor traffic, which strangely has not been adverted to by the North Carolina press, became known here some time ago. The court says, that a man who acts as agent for the solicitation and delivery of whiskey in prohibition territory, is the seller, where the law defines the place of deivery as the place of sale. This is certainly a reversal of the North Carolina Supreme Court decision recently announced in a case taken up from Monroe. The case in point, went up from South Dakota. A man there who acted as agent of a liquor firm outside the State in receiving orders for liquor, was indicted, tried and convicted of violating the section of the State prohibition law, defining the place of delivery as the place of sale. An appeal was taken to the State Supreme Court, which sustained the lower court. An appeal was taken to the United States Supreme Court, and it sustains the State court. It says, the interstate commerce principle does not apply in such cases, as the Wilson Act of Congress, passed two years ago, meets that point. A copy of this opinion has been secured by a leading attorney here with the result that every liquor order man located in Greensboro has suspended open business. The Southern Express Company which does a land office business bringing packages of liquor into North Carolina prohibition territory from points outside the State, is also looking into the matter, and its attorney is making further invastigations into the decision to see if it also is under the ban. The decision says that while an agent who takes the order is the seller, the party desiring the liquor may with impunity send out of the State and secure the liquor. This lets in the individual but knocks out the agent.

The observance of this decision as the law in Greensboro would close up half a dozen whiskey order agencies, the proprietors of which are making more money on commissions on orders than they did as owners of saloons. It will also be a loss to the Southern Express Company of many thousands of dollars a year from this point, alone. The Virginia whiskey dealers who have suddenly grown rich through agents on orders from North Carolina dry towns will be hit hardest of all, while Greensboro, under the incoming so-called wet mayor will be so dry in comparison with what it is under the present alleged dry mayor, that the most zealous prohibitionist will call for moisture.

Valuable Pebbles.

Between the northern point of Long Island and Watch Hill lies a row of little islands, two of which, Plum island and Goose island, possess a peculiar form of mineral wealth. It consists in heaps of richly colored quartz pebbles, showing red, yellow, purple and other hues, which are locally called agates. They are used in making stained glass windows, and there is a sufficient demand for them in New York to keep the owners of one or two sloops employed in gathering them from the beaches, where the waves continually roll and polish them, bringing out the beauty of their colors.

El Dorado.

The modern meaning of El Dorado may be traced as follows: One of Pizarro's men said that he had discovered a land of boundless wealth between the Orinoco and the Amazon. This country was named El Dorado, and many adventurers, among them Sir Walter Raleigh, endeavored to find it; hence the name has come to mean a golden country of the mind, a fabulous land of fabulous wealth, much as Cockaigne, a fancied land of luxury and idleness.—New York American.

Happiness and Hunger.

"My idea of perfect happiness," said the seedy philosopher as he made his fourth round trip to the free lunch counter, "is to be in a position to go into the swellest restaurant, put my hand over the price list of the menu and order what my taste dictates, irrespective of the demurs of a diminished wad."

A Correction.

Bertie—Father, what is an egotist? Father—He is a man who thinks he is smarter than any one else. Mother—My dear, you are scarcely right. The egotist is the man who says that he is smarter than any one else. All men think they are!

Appropriate.

Young Widow (at the animal seller's)—I want a dog. Animal Seller—Yes, madam; white, gray or brindled? Young Widow—No. Black—all black. I am in deep mourning.—Nos Loisirs.

Has Continuous Life.

Venus—And what do you do when not engaged in archery? Cupid—Oh, I'm kept busy rhyming with stupid!—Puck.

He is a fool who cannot be angry, but he is a wise man who will not.—Seneca.

The Vice Presidency.

"It's sthrange about th' vice prisidincy," said Mr. Dooley. "Th' prisidincy is th' highest office in th' gift iv th' people. Th' vice prisidincy is th' nex' highest an' th' lowest. It isn't a crime exactly. Ye can't be sint to jail f'r it, but it's a kind iv a disgrace."—"Dissertations by Mr. Dooley."

DURHAM HAS BAD FIRE

Hotel Carr-olina Burned Last Night. Other Damage.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 2.—A telephone message received here at 11:30 tonight from Durham, N. C., says the Hotel Carr-olina is in flames and the block adjoining it (the business centre of the city) is threatened. Assistance has been asked for from the fire department of this city and arrangements are being made for a special train to take fire companies there at once.

The Hotel Carr-olina is the principal hotel of Durham, situated near the depot and centre of the town, and is a large wooden structure.

At 12:45 the hotel was consumed and the fire was not under control. A closely built block containing many stores and two banks is separated from the hotel by a narrow alley and these are in danger. The immense plant of the Blackwell Durham Tobacco Company is across the street from the hotel. Several firemen have been hurt but none seriously.

At 1 o'clock a message was received from Durham just as firemen and apparatus were about to leave this city on a special train saying that the Durham firemen would be able to handle the fire.

The hotel is a four story structure. The loss is $125,000 fully covered by insurance. There were 50 or 75 guests all of whom escaped without injury. Some of them escaped in their night clothes, losing all of their possessions.

RECUED IN NICK OF TIME

Sixteen Picked Up at Sea in Sinking Life Boat.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Norfolk, Va., May 2.—Captain Darocha, 14 seamen and a negro boy stowaway, survivors of the Portugese Bark Orient, which stranded off Nag's Head Life Saving station, on the North Carolina coast last Saturday night, arrived here last night, having been picked up by the fishing smack Lillia B. Fernald, of New York. They were rescued thirty miles north of Cape Hatteras, after they had been afloat in a small and leaking boat for fourteen hours. The lifeboat went down immediately after the last man stepped from it. It was with great difficulty that it was kept afloat so long.

A City of Caravans.

The first of November is the official beginning of winter in Paris. Then, no matter what the temperature be, fires are lit in the schools and public buildings, and the janitor turns on the heat for the sad race of flat dwellers. Then all the smaller shows which cannot pay for a "stand" in the streets or squares go into winter quarters. Where? I found a city of them out in the waste lands by the great gate of Montrouge. In an empty lot were scores of caravans drawn up behind the wooden palisades, ranged so as to form veritable streets, named after this showman or that. Dogs, chickens, rabbits, children, swarmed everywhere. Corkscrews of smoke rose from the chimneys of the wagons. Gaudy rags were drying on lines. Will you look in one of the vans? It has two rooms. In one are the beds. The other is for eating. On all sides the walls are lined with closets and drawers. A little stove glows near the door. Here they are born, here they live and die, the enternal dynasties of the voyagers.—Vance Thompson in Outing Magazine.

The Truly Beautiful.

There is, it has been said, no fixed standard of art criticism. What is lauded today is discarded tomorrow, and even connoisseurs disagree bewilderingly; but, glancing back over the ages, it will be found that the discord has been caused by technical divergence and that in every land and among all peoples the truly beautiful has been generally recognized and correctly esteemed. No one questions today the beauty of the Greek temple or the charm of the Babylonian pottery. It does not require trained eyes to recognize the merit of an oriental flower painting or to find delight in one of Whistler's nocturnes. The fundamentals in each instance are the same—rhythmical line, fair proportions and harmonious coloring. We have to be led ofttimes up the ascent of art, and there is much discussion concerning the byways, but once on the height all dissension ends, and we no longer need a guide.—Leila Mechlin in Century.

Dryden's Ruse.

The story is told that Dryden, finishing his translation of "Virgil," sent it to Jacob Tonson for publication for a sum specified upon the manuscript. Tonson was desirous of obtaining the book, but determined to take advantage of Dryden's need of money. He therefore informed the poet that he could not pay the sum Dryden asked. In reply Dryden sent the following lines in description of the publisher:

With leering look, bull faced and freckled fair,
With two left legs, with Judas colored hair
And frowzy pores that taint the ambient air.

When this was delivered to Tonson he asked if Dryden had said anything more. "Yes," replied the bearer, "he said to tell the dog that he who wrote these lines could write more like them." Tonson sent the money at once.

Crocodiles and the Cure.

One does not usually connect crocodiles with a health resort—rather the reverse—but the creatures are quite a feature of the Indian bathing place of Manghapir, about nine miles from Karachi. This town is a place of pilgrimage for pious Hindoos, but it is chiefly famous for the value of its waters in the cure of the dread scourge of leprosy. The waters are hot, and more than 60 per cent of the sufferers who bathe there annually, it is said, are cured. The crocodiles are rather noteworthy in that they live in the hot water, apparently suffering no inconvenience from its temperature or medicinal qualities.—Wide World Magazine.

A Miss and a Find.

It was the habit of the Rev. James Spurgeon, grandfather of the great preacher of that name, to pray each evening under a certain oak tree in a secluded wood in Honeywood park. One night he dreamed, the story goes, that Satan appeared and threatened to tear him in pieces if he followed his accustomed route to the tree. There was another path by which he might go in safety. Remembering his dream, Spurgeon felt sorely tempted the next night to take the route in which Satan was not. But this would be to capitulate. Trembling in every limb, he made his way by the path in which the danger lay. He reached his goal in safety and in prayer and song returned thanks for delivery from peril. When his prayer had ended he rose to return. In his path lay a piece of solid gold "as large as a curtain ring." All inquiry failing to discover an owner, he retained it and when he married had his wife's wedding ring made from his curious find.

A Desperate Wager.

Driven to desperation by their heavy losses, gamblers have often sought by some coup either to repair their shattered fortunes or to bring down utter ruin upon themselves. One of the most curious instances of this kind comes from England. In the eighteenth century a notorious gambler had been losing steadily in a game for high stakes with Lord Lorne. Exasperated by his continued ill fortune, he suddenly sprang up from the card table, seized a large and costly punch bowl and, balancing it above his head, called out to his opponent:

"For once I'll have a bet where I have an equal chance of winning! Odd or even, for 15,000 guineas!"

"Odd!" replied the peer placidly, and the gambler hurled the magnificent bowl against the wall.

When they counted the pieces Lord Lorne had won.—Tuesday Magazine.

Warmed by Their Perfume.

According to the results of experiments by Dr. Jean Chalon, aromatic plants charged with essential oils which exhale a perfume that spreads like an atmosphere about them when touched by the rays of the sun are to a slight degree warmed by the presence of this agreeable atmosphere. It acts in retaining the solar heat like the glass covers of a hothouse, although of course far less effectively. Professor Spring has shown that the relatively high temperatures of large cities is probably due, at least in part, to the carbonic anhydride in the air above them acting as a retaining screen for heat rays.

Spots on Leather.

Oxalic acid in weak solutions is the best thing to use when removing spots from leather. Two or three crystals of oxalic dissolved in warm water, then applied with a bit of cloth to the spots, will do the work. Watch closely, and when the spots begin to disappear apply clear water to overcome the acid, which is a powerful bleach. Dry the leather with a clean cloth. For bright leather make the solution weaker.—Philadelphia North American.

Right In His Line.

Irate Father—I'm getting tired of this nonsense. You've been engaged to that young man for six months. Does he ever intend to marry you? Daughter—You must have patience, papa. Remember, he's an actor. Irate Father—What has that to do with it? Daughter—He's fond of long engagements.

He Made Them Read It.

Daughter—Have you found out yet what it was that papa cut out of the paper? Mother—Yes. I bought a copy. I've read it all through, but to save my life I can't see anything wrong in it. It's an article on the vulgarity and silliness of buying gowns that are beyond one's means.

A Man of High Principles.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Charlotte, May 1: Percy G. Fonville was released from the county jail tonight at 10 o'clock on a $10,000 bond signed by citizens of Alabama, his home State. He will leave tomorrow morning for Luverne, Ala., where he was arrested last Thursday charged with conspiracy in the robbery of the Charlotte National Bank.

—Kinston had a great Masonic rally on Wednesday, the centrepiece about which the affair centred being the laying of the cornerstone of a modern $20,000 graded school building. Congressman W. W. Kitchin, of Roxboro, was orator of the day, and the exercises were on an elaborate scale.

—Winston-Salem, May 1: It is announced this afternoon that the extension of the street car line to East Winston is assured. Work is to be begun as soon as East Fourth street is graded. A company is being formed to build a line to Piedmont park, where county fairs are held, two miles north of the city.

—Wilson, May 1: There are two cases of Cuban itch or smallpox in the suburbs of Wilson, so reports the superintendent of health. One of the patients is white; the other colored. Both are mild cases and are quarantined. It seems to be the same trouble that our physicians had to contend with several years ago—all of them in a quandary as to what name to give it.

—Elizabeth City, N. C., May 1: Ex-Mayor Leigh was sworn in this morning as judge of the Pasquotank county Justice Court before Clerk Jennings and held his first session of court this morning at 9 o'clock. This court was created by an act of the last Legislature. It has jurisdiction over all misdemeanors and felonies whose punishment does not exceed one year in the penitentiary.

—Asheville, May 1: Two white boys, Ledford and Gregory, last evening about 7:30 o'clock knocked the brass stem out of a four-inch gas valve at the gas company's tank or "holder" and before the trouble was discovered probably an hour later, the gas supply had become exhausted and no gas was obtainable in Asheville last night or this morning. All users of gas ranges and stoves and also gas for other purposes were rendered helpless. The boys were caught this morning while attempting to sell the brass stem to a junk dealer and are held for the Superior Court. The printing establishments using linotype machines, and consequently consumers of gas, were badly handicapped last night and today.

—Raleigh News and Observer, May 2: Rev. Livingston Johnson, mission secretary of the Baptist State convention, received a telegram yesterday from the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist convention at Richmond, whose books closed at midnight of April 30, bringing good news to the Baptists throughout North Carolina. It read, "Out of debt, North Carolina raises $30,500." This indicates that the past has been a most progressive year in the work of foreign missions by the Baptists of the South and that this denomination in North Carolina has contributed during the past twelve months the largest amount for any year in the history of the convention, the amount raised the previous year having been in round numbers $28,000.

—Goldsboro, N. C., May 1: A serious wreck occurred on the Norfolk & Southern railroad at Leggets crossing, about a mile and a half from the city this afternoon about 1:30, in which George Dunn, the yard engineer was so badly scalded that he is not expected to live. He had taken his engine to the water tank to get water, and was returning, running at a rate of about 25 miles an hour when it jumped the track, and turned over, carrying with it young Dunn, who was pinioned under the iron monster while the escaping steam and hot coals covered his entire body as he lay in this helpless condition unable to move a limb. Besides Mr. Dunn and his fireman, Ed. Watson, there were several young men on the engine at the time of the wreck, who went for a ride to the water tank, all of whom were more or less injured, but none seriously.

Wonderful Eczema Cure.

"Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes N. A. Adams, Henrietta, Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being affected. We then employed other doctors but no benefit resulted. By chance we read about Electric Bitters; bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured." Best of all blood medicines and body building health tonics. Guaranteed at R. R. Bellamy's Drug store. 50c.

TIRED AND SICK YET MUST WORK

"Man may work from sun to sun but woman's work is never done."

In order to keep the home neat and pretty, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo and often suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden.

It is to these women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, comes as a blessing. When the spirits are depressed, the head and back aches, there are dragging-down pains, nervousness, sleeplessness, and reluctance to go anywhere, these are only symptoms which unless heeded, are soon followed by the worst forms of Female Complaints.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

keeps the feminine organism ina strong and healthy condition. It cures Inflammation, Ulceration, displacements, and organic troubles. In preparing for child-birth and to carry women safely through the Change of Life it is most efficient.

Mrs. Augustus Lyon, of East Earl, Pa., writes:— Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"For a long time I suffered from female troubles and had all kinds of aches and pains in the lower part of back and sides, I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and following the advice which you gave me I feel like a new woman and I cannot praise your medicine too highly."

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of her vast volume of experience she probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, May 2.—The cotton market was a little less active than yesterday and the business continued on in a very encouraging volume, sales being estimated at 400,000 bales. Fluctuations were more or less irregular and the market showed considerable nervousness. The close was barely steady at a net advance of 5 to 12 points. The market opened firm at an advance of 6 to 12 points in response to higher English futures than expected, and larger English spot sales. July sold at 10.35 immediately following the call which was a new high record for the movement, but the weather map made a little better showing, early predictions were for more favorable conditions and the market eased off to about last night's finals during the late forenoon, under realizing and selling for a turn by local professionals. The official forecast was for colder weather in the Western belt, however, and with shorts continuing very nervous over the situation in the near months, prices rallied on a renewal of covering and bull spport in the late trading with July selling at 10.39, or 17c net higher in the last half hour. The close was 3 or 4 points off from the best under realizing. There were reports during the day of a continued demand for spot supplies from the local stock and Southern spot markets reported early were unchanged to 1-8c higher. Numerous private wires complaining of crop prospects were received during the day.

Receipts—Cotton today, 8,244 bales, against 7,895 last week and 11,077 last year. For the week 65,000 bales against 70,640 last week and 93,982 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 2,514 bales, against 3,477 last year, and at Houston 968 bales against 1,528 last year.

Spot cotton closed steady; middling uplands, 11.55; middling gulf, 11.80; sales, 13,922 bales. Futures closed steady.

BRONZE STATUE TO GEN. M'CLELLAN

Equestrian Likeness Unveiled With Appropiate Ceremonies in Washington, D. C.,

SPEECH BY MR. ROOSEVELT

President Eulogized Distinguished Federal General and Paid Tribute to Northern and Southern Armies—Sons of Grant and Lee.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, May 2.—With appropriate civic and military ceremonies and in the presence of a distinguished audience, the heroic equestrian statue in bronze of Major General George B. McClellan, erected under the auspices of the Army of the Potomac, was unveiled here today. President Roosevelt made the principal speech and with General Frederick D. Grant on his right and Governor Stokes, of New Jersey, on his left, reviewed an imposing military parade of regulars and militia. Mrs. McClellan's the general's widow, Mayor George B. McClellan, of New York, son of the general, and Dr. George McClellan, of New Jersey, a nephew, who pulled the string releasing the flags in which the statue was enveloped, occupied seats on the President's stand. The diplomatic corps, the army and navy and civil military were largely represented.

Brigadier General Henry D. Dright, U. S. Volunteers, the president of the Society of the Army of the Potomac, presided. As the National flags which enveloped the statute swung to the breeze there was an exclamation of admiration from the vast assemblage, accompanied by the firing of a salute and the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner."

Major General Franklin Bell, chief of staff of the army, was in command of the military parade, which consisted of three divisions made up of infantry, artillery and cavalry of the regular army, the National Guard of the District of Columbia and the third regiment of infantry of the New Jersey National Guard, Battery A., of the field artillery and two troops of cavalry from that State in command of Brigadier General Dennis F. Collins.

The President delivered a typical speech in which he touched upon a variety of subjects including war, peace, national pride, the family, and the qualities that make for brotherhood and fraternity. After extending a greeting on behalf of the Nation to Mrs. McClellan and others, the President said:

"General McClellan it was given to command in some of the hardest fought battles and most important campaigns in the great war of this hemisphere so that his name will be forever linked with the mighty memories that arise when we speak of Antietam and South Mountain, Fair Oaks and Malvern; so that we never can speak of the great army of the Potomac without having rise before us the figure of General McClellan, the man who organized and first led it. There was also given to him the peculiar gift, one that is possessed by but very few men, to combine the qualities that won him the enthusiastic love and admiration of the soldiers who fought with and under him and the qualities that in civil life endeared him peculiarly to all who came in contact with him.

"We have become accustomed to accepting as a matter of course certain things which would be well nigh impossible in any country save ours, so that it seems most natural that the President of the United States when he drives down to take part in a celebration like this should have as his personal aids both the sons of the men who wore the blue and the sons of the men who wore the gray. As Americans, when we glory in what was done under Grant, Sherman, Thomas, Sheridan, McClellan, Farragut, we can no less glory in the valor and the devotion to duty as it was given to them to see their duty of the men who fought under Lee and Stonewall Jackson and the Johnsons and Stewart and Morgan.

"We have listened recently to a great deal of talk about peace. It is the duty of all of us to strive for peace provided that it comes on the right terms. I believe that the men who really does best work for the state in peace is the very man who at need will do well in war. If peace is merely another name for self-indulgence, for sloth, for timidity, for the avoidance of duty, have none of it. Seek the peace that comes to the just man armed who will dare to defend his rights if the need should arise. Seek the peace granted to him who will wrong no man and will not submit to wrong in return. Seek the peace that comes to us as the peace of righteousness, the peace of justice.

"Asy peace because your deeds and your powers warrant you in asking it and do not put yourself in the position to crave it as something to be granted or withheld at the whim of another."

General Horatio C. King, the secretary of the Army of the Potomac, read a history of the statue, which is by Frederick MacMinnies, the American sculptor, residing in Paris. The statute commands an imposing position at the intersection of Connecticut avenue and Columbia road, in the northwest section of the city. The equestrian group is cast in standard bronze and is 14 feet in height. The rider is in field costume in repose. The horse is slightly in action. In and around the spot where the monument stands were encamped in 1861 a large part of the army which McClellan commanded in the peninsula and subsequently in the Antietam campaigns

JACKIES RACING AT JAMESTOWN

Foreigners Win In Two Events and Yankees Successful in Only One.

BRITISH TARS THE VICTORS

Race for Prince Luis of Bttenberg Cup Will Take Place Today—American Tars Entertain Foreign Jackies Last Night.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Norfolk, Va., May 2.—Foreign sailors had their innings in the Jamestown Exposition races between warship crews in Hampton Roads this afternoon, and in two of the three contests the American tars failed of a place.

England, Austria, Argentine and Germany all came in for honors in the second and third races, the first place being captured by the jackies from England in both events. But the American boys had the first race all to themselves. It was a free-for-all affair and the 17 entries represented nearly every class of naval tender that is propelled by oars.

The boats went across the line almost together and for the first mile no crew kept the lead for any length of time, but before the race was half over, it could be seen that the prize lay between the cutters of the U. S. S. Kearsarge and the Indiana. As the brawny lads jerked the trim little craft through the water almost side by side, for the last mile of the race, the spectators shouted and threw up their hats, dignified captains banged little midshipmen on the back and the occupants of the many small craft had many a narrow escape from upsetting as they enthusistically cheered their favorites to victory. When the victorious crew from the Indiana passed between the lines of ships after the race they received one ovation after another.

The second and third races went to the foreigners, the Englishmen carrying off the honor without much trouble with the German sailors their closest contestants.

The following are the results.

First Race—Free for all; 17 entries 3 miles. First, Indiana 26 minutes 18 seconds; second, Kearsarge, 26 minutes, 23 seconds; third, Kentucky, 28 minutes 30 seconds.

Second Race—Gigs, 15 entries, two miles. First, Good Hope (British), 18 minutes, 29 seconds; second, Sarmiento, (Argentine) 18 minutes 55 seconds; third, Roxborough (British), 19 flat.

Thir Race—Service cutter, two mile, 18 entries. First, Argyll (British), time 16 minutes, 51 seconds; second, Sankt George (Austrian), 16 minutes, 54 seconds; third, Bremen (German), 18 flat.

Tomorrow the preliminaries for the Prince Luis of Battenburg cup races will be held, and on Saturday the winner in the trial will meet the crack British crew from the Argyll.

American Tars Entertain.

There were lively times aboard the battleships Virginia and Illinois in Hampton Roads tonight, for Uncle Sam's jackies aboard those two ships were doing the part of host as a compliment to the sailors from the British flagship Goodhope and the German flagship Roon.

Just after the sunset gun, stumpy little launches came puffing from the two foreigners, with a long line of ships' boats strung out behind, loaded to the gunwales with joyously expectant sailors.

There was not as much formality in the reception aboard the American ships when the guests came piling over the side as would have been had an admiral been coming aboard, but there was a whole lot of welcoming and making at home All the berth deck had been devoted to the spread and when it was over, the American tars entertained their visitors with a ministrel show and some boxing bouts.

ANNUAL REUNION ARMY OF POTOMAC

Civial War Veterans Who Wore The Blue Gather in Washington, D. C.,

GEN. CURTIS IS PRESIDENT

Old Soldiers Endorsed Peace Movement—Honor for Widow of General Geo. B. McClellan—National Park Favored.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, May 2.—President Roosevelt was made an honorary member of the Society of the Army of the Potomac at its annual reunion at the Belasco theatre in this city today. General N. M. Curtis, of New York, was elected president of the society to succeed General Henry C. Dwight. The other officers were re-elected as follows:

Recording Secretary—General Horatio C. King.

Treasurer—Lieutenant Frank S. Holladay.

Corresponding Secretary — Colonel W. F. Fox.

Several resolutions were adopted, the principal one being in favor of "every effort to supercede war by peaceful arbitration."

The resolution "notes with deep interest the approaching session of The Hague conference and earnestly hopes that a great step forward in the promotion of universal peace and good will among nations may be secured through its deliberations."

A resolution urging upon Congress the prompt passage of the Fredericksburg National Park bill was adopted.

A committee of three was appointed to escort Mrs. General George B. McClellan to the theatre. Her appearance was the signal for a great demonstration.

Addresses by the outgoing and incoming presidents, General Dwight and General Curtis, concluded the meeting.

MINISTER HAS SKIPPED.

Young Lady Worth $125,000 Is Also Missing from Home.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, May 2.—Members of the fashionable St. George's Episcopal Church at Hampstead, L. I., were astonished today when they learned that their pastor, Rev. Knode Cooke, had departed from Hampstead, and that Miss Floretta Whaley also had left her home and had written letters saying she would not return. Rev. Mr. Cooke is married to Matilda, daughter of R. A. Clarke, of Hartford, Conn.

Bishop Burgess, of the diocese of Long Island, says that immediate action will be taken by the vestry of St. George's church, to fill the vacancy caused by the departure of Mr. Cooke. "The vestry is overwhlemed by the unexpected calamity," said Bishop Burgess, "and is at a loss to account for it. It is inclined to the belief that Dr. Cooke connot be of sound mind. He obtained a leave of absence a year ago and went to Europe to recuperate but his condition since his return has been poor. The church and its property are in the best of condition."

According to stories which were circulated freely in Hempstead today the infatuation of the minister for Miss Whaley has been apparent for some time and was the direct cause of Mrs. Cooke leaving for her father's home. It is said that the young woman's grandmother, with whom she made her home, became aware of the infatuation some time ago and asked the minister to cease his visits to her home. Miss Whaley left her home several days ago, saying she intended to visit friends in this city. A little later the grandmother received a letter saying that when it was received "they would be out of the country.

Mr. Cooke was popular during his pastorate in Hempstead and also was very successful in a financial way. In the five years since he came to Long Island from Grace Church, Baltimore, where he had been as a curate, he had raised nearly $100,000 in his parish. With this money he built a parish home, made extensive improvements in the church edifice, and had begun improvements on the Sunday School building. He is a man of pleasing presence and a good talker.

Miss Whaley, the missing young woman, has a fortune said to amount to $125,000 which came to her at her father's death.

STILL AFTER PRESIDENT

Mr. Roosevelt Will Write Letter Concerning Moyer and Haywood.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, May 2.—William A. Coakley, John S. Henry and Maurice Brown, representatives of the Central Federated Union, of New York, had a talk with the President today concerning his letter to Representative Sherman describing Messrs. Hoyer and Haywood as "undesirable citizens". While they declined to say anything about their interview, it was learned that the President will write a letter to the Union to be read at its next meeting. The committee was accompanied by James B. Reynolds, who arranged for the interview with the President.
